

LINE-X Advantage

TOO BAD HE DIDN'T BUY A LINE-X.

Drop-In Disadvantages

A Drop-In liner covers up your truck bed, trapping water and debris between the liner and the bed of your truck. As a result, a drop-in bedliner actually promotes condensation, water damage, abrasion, rust, and corrosion.

Extreme Protection

Bonding permanently to your truck bed, Line-x molds around every contour, proving a weather and water tight seal, for extreme protection. This gives your bed a factory installed look with no lost cargo space!

Dependable Reputation

Nobody knows trucks and those who use them better than Line-X San Diego. Line-x with over a million bedliners sprayed, Line-X has become standard equipment for a lot of folks and their hardworking trucks.

Adds Value

Whether you spray Line-x on a well used or a new truck bed, Line-X will provide years of reliable service. It's a great way to add resale value to your truck.

It's Quiet

It's shock absorbing qualities dampen sound and vibration. Doesn't rattle like some drop-in liners do.

Accessories Fit Great

Bed lids, camper shells, fiberglass tops, 5th wheel hitches, tie downs, utility boxes, ect. all fit great because Line-X molds to every contour and does not interfere with accessory installation.

Quick Turnaround

Professionally applied, the surface dries in 3 to 5 seconds. With a pre-scheduled appointment, the total job including masking and spraying can all be done in about 1.5 hours. your truck is ready immediately.
